

Inkaterra Machu Picchu Pueblo Hotel, Opened the V Summer Workshop of environmental education for children in Machu Picchu Village

This January 14th the V Summer Workshop on Environmental Education for Children in Machu Picchu, was opened, Inka Terra Association ITA organized with the Interpreters of Inkaterra Machu Picchu Pueblo Hotel. The workshop program will run from 15 January to 15 March in which more than seventy children aged between 5-12 years old participate learning and enjoying how to take care of the environment. The goal is to raise environmental awareness and conservation.

The courses are focused on issues related to the environment and culture, like global warming, greenhouse effect, properties of native and medicinal plants, biodiversity of Machu Picchu, recycling among others that are considered an essential tool for raising awareness about the true value of the natural environment and socio-cultural issues.

