

byInkaterra's Hacienda Concepcion opens this Autumn

Tuesday, 27 September 2011 11:47

Hotel

byInkaterra's Hacienda Concepcion opens this Autumn

Opening this autumn, Hacienda Concepcion is the second property to launch under Inkaterra's new sister brand byInkaterra. Whilst offering a relaxed and casual alternative to Inkaterra's other luxury hotels, byInkaterra maintains the company's high standards in hospitality and commitment to conservation and socially responsible tourism.

Hacienda Concepcion is located in an enchanting and serene lush setting within 819 hectares of natural rainforest. The rainforest acts as a buffer zone between Tambopata National Park and the shores of the vast Madre de Dios River, making the location of this new lodge unique and wonderfully remote. This new byInkaterra Amazonian lodge seeks to cater for nature loving enthusiasts who come to the region in search of a memorable "full-immersion" experience in the jungle (and are perhaps more conscious of time and budgetary constraints).

The lodge is located only 20 minutes down river from Puerto Maldonado and can be reached by taking a scenic canoe ride from the town. The lodge itself sits by a natural, private "cocha" or lake, home to rich ecosystems, tropical plants and beautiful wildlife.

Comprising a main lodge with 8 twin rooms and 7 individual cabanas Hacienda Concepcion is built in the typical Amazonian style. The central building boasts high ceilings with hand-woven, thatched roofing and a spacious dining area decked out with locally-crafted, warm coloured furnishings made of reclaimed new lumber. The rooms all look out into the forest and are generous in size, with separate bathrooms and covered porches overlooking the "cocha" perfect for wildlife spotting.

Sensitively positioned within walking distance of beautiful and solitary Lake Sandoval, this unique jungle lodge offers a wide range of fixed land and river excursions in its surroundings, opportunities to spot hoatzins or shanshos and other wild animals. The varied menu of day-trips will introduce guests to the magic of the rainforest which has yet to be discovered. Guaranteed to provide an incomparably memorable stay, this is an experience for true adventure seekers.