TAMBOPATA - PERU

DESCRIPTION

A 20-minute boat ride leads to this rustic-chic eco-luxury lodge, built on a former cacao and rubber plantation. Set across from the Tambopata National Reserve, it spans 819 hectares of mostly primary forest, surrounded by a horseshoe-shaped oxbow lake. This lodge is home to diverse ecosystems, tropical plants, and rich wildlife. Designed for nature enthusiasts, it offers an immersive and unforgettable experience in the heart of the Amazon rainforest. Additionally, within walking distance lies the beautiful and remote Lake Sandoval, home to howler monkeys, caimans, and giant river otters.
