

Valentine's Day: Romantic Getaways on a Budget

Written By Lisa Rogak / Published February 12, 2012 / Fox News Latino

Valentine's Day: Romantic Getaways on a Budget

The best way to celebrate Valentines Day is at a resort somewhere in paradise in Latin America where Champagne, a romantic dinner, and a couple of chaise lounges on the beach are not too far away.

For many couples, the best way to celebrate Valentines Day is at a resort somewhere in paradise in Latin America where Champagne, a romantic dinner, and a couple of chaise lounges on the beach are not too far away.

While it doesn't take much effort to spend a lot of money on such a getaway, the truth is that there are ample opportunities for budget-minded romantics who want to celebrate Valentines Day in style without spending a ton of money.

Located on the banks of the Madre de Dios River, Hacienda Concepcion is remote and yet accessible, and caters to nature-loving couples who want an authentic jungle experience but who want to "rough it without roughing it" lodge: amenities include hot rain showers, Peruvian cotton linens and expert local guides from. Two nights all-inclusive start at $580.