Incan treasure

If Peru is on your must visit list, here's somewhere unique to base yourself. Opening this month, Inkaterra Hacienda Urubamba stands in the spectacular Sacred Valley of the Incas - where the Andean mountains provide the backdrop - and houses just 12 impeccably designed rooms, although its grounds will soon swell through the arrival of 24 boutique casitas. From here Peru's great outdoors is yours to explore, with the Hacienda offering a visit to Machu Picchu, tours of Incan ruins, horseback riding, mountain biking and river rafting to boot.
