

Love is in the Air at Inkaterra

For adventures couples who want to stray from the generic candle-lit dinners, have had enough of hearts and are bored of bouquets, Inkaterra offer unique, once-in-a-lifetime, romantic experiences, from staying the night high in the Amazonian tree tops, to spa treatments on the banks of the Madre de Dios.

Brave couples can enjoy the ultimate Valentine's experience, secluded at 90ft above the forest floor, in the Inkaterra Canopy Tree House. Situated at the end of the Canopy Walkway at Inkaterra Reserva Amazonica, winding through the thriving Amazonian tree tops, the Tree House offers love birds a star lit dinner and a canopy night walk, before spending the night with only lantern light and the sounds of the rainforest for company.

After watching the sunrise across the Amazonian tree tops, couples can watch it set, as they enjoy the Twilight River experience. This guided afternoon boat ride showcases the enchanting transformation from a diurnal to a nocturnal environment, as animals and birds of the daytime retire, and the Amazon is filled with species adapted to the darkness. As they sail through the jungle, couples can search for nightjars, owls, capybaras and caimans, guided by starlight.

Situated on the banks of the Madre de Dios River, facing Rolin Island, the ENA Spa at Inkaterra Reserva Amazonica provides a great spot for gazing into an Amazonian sunset. Couple can completely relax as they enjoy a rejuvenating Reserva Amazonica Body Exfoliation, using a natural selection of locally grown cocoa plants, and rehydrating cocoa milk to nourish and protect the skin, before a Foot Therapy exfoliates and hydrates with a combination of salts, various plants and flowers from the region.
