

Star-Telegram

Luxury travel destinations raise the bar

Elaine Glusac October 6, 2016 10:15 AM

Inkaterra Machu Picchu Pueblo Hotel

The Best of Peru

With lodges from the Amazon to the Andes, Inkaterra has long been a leader in luxury-level sustainable tourism in Peru. Forty years long, to be exact. To celebrate, Inkaterra is offering nine-day trips that visit all four of its boutiques, beginning at the 35-cabana Inkaterra Reserva Amazonica for canopy walks and jungle safaris. Then hit Inkaterra Machu Picchu Pueblo Hotel for a visit to the hidden city of the Inca, and continue to Inkaterra Hacienda Urubamba in the Sacred Valley nearby. In colorful Cusco, stay at Inkaterra La Casona, arguably the city's best boutique hotel with 11 rooms in a 16th-century manor. Trips cost $5,200 per person, including excursions, meals and spa treatments; 011-51-1-610-0400, www.inkaterra.com.

Link to Story: <http://www.star-telegram.com/living/indulge/indulge-getting-around/article106378317.html#storylink=cpy>