GREEN PEARLS® - UNIQUE PLACES

Romantic traveling around the world: 5 green pearls for couples

BY HANNA * JUNE 13, 2017 * CAMBODIA, GENERAL, GERMANY, INDONESIA, PERU, THAILAND, TRAVEL

With your favorite person by your side it's beautiful wherever you are. Nevertheless we show you five places to spend a romantic time with your sweetheart: doing an adventurous trip in South America, enjoying the sunset on Sylt or during authentic experiences in Asia.

4 Rivers Floating Lodge, Cambodia

You don't like camping? You likely haven't visited the 4 Rivers Floating Lodge in Cambodia! Try glamping in midst of the pristine nature of the Cardamom mountains, where Valentin and his wife Anna built their luxurious resort. What is so special about it is that the twelve tented villas are built on the Tatai river. From your balcony you can look over the river's crystal clear water or watch the sun going down while enjoying a typical Cambodian dinner. Perfect for some romantic moments! You want more action? During a jungle trekking tour you get to know the local wildlife and – with a bit of luck – you might even see clouded leopards, indochinese tigers, elephants or crocodiles!

Hotel Niedersachsen, Sylt

Once you arrive at the Hotel Niedersachen on Sylt you will never want to leave! To unwind and leave daily life behind, you better switch off your smartphone and enjoy togetherness in one of the electrosmog-free rooms. The hotel is located in only 100 Meter distance to the beach and the world heritage site Wadden sea. If you've never done a hike through the tidal flats before, now is your chance to catch up on it. The best closing for your vacation on Sylt is to watch the sunset at the beach: seeing how the sky turns orange-red and the sun goes down in the sea while you're walking along the beach...there might be nothing more romantic!

Sol Beach House Benoa, Indonesia

In the south of Bali close to the beach you will find the all-inclusive hotel Sol Beach House Benoa. Standing on your porch you'll have a great view on tropical gardens, only a little bit further the white sandy beach and the deep blue sea are waiting for you to relax. The hotel itself follows the traditional Balinese philosophy of Tri Hita Karana which stands for "Three aspects of harmony" and refers to the harmony among people, in interactions with nature and with god. It doesn't matter how stressful your life has been before, staying here on Bali you will feel as if you've landed in paradise!

Inkaterra Machu Picchu Pueblo

Hotel, Peru

You've always wanted to travel to South America, wander the old paths of the Inca and explore the mysterious lost city Machu Picchu? Amid the Andes, surrounded by a huge forrest there lies the Inkaterra Machu Picchu Pueblo Hotel. And it's much more than "only" the base for your hike to Machu Picchu: the restaurant pampers you with traditional Peruvian cuisine, the Inkaterra Spa uses natural essences to help you to truly relax and during the guided tours you will get to know more about the history of the Incas. An adventure holiday for two in the seclusion of pure nature.

Keemala, Thailand

When staying in the Keemala in Thailand you're as far away from daily routine as nowhere else: The concept bases on the four fictional old tribes the 'Pa-ta-pea' (Earth), the 'Khon-Jorn' (Wanderers), the 'We-ha' (Sky), and the 'Rung-Nok' (Nest) people. The old lifestyle is being celebrated in everything they do which gives guests the opportunity to fully immerse in this experience. All spa and wellness treatments, the restaurants as well as a lot of activities follow the traditions of these four tribes. Additionally there's a swimming pool for every villa to enjoy your vacation in pure privacy.
