

World's Top Travel Experts Announce The Best Hotels, Bars And Spas For 2017

Jim Dobson, CONTRIBUTOR

FULL BIO ▾

Opinions expressed by Forbes Contributors are their own.

Four Seasons Resort Lanai

Retreat pool at the Four Seasons Resort Lanai

The luxury travel network Virtuoso[®] has revealed the nominees for the 2017 Best of the Best awards to be announced at their 29th annual Travel Week conference. The awards will take place in August in Las Vegas, and will mark 11 years since the organization began honoring the best properties in the world.

11,400 high-end travel advisors to select the winners in each of the categories, ranging from the most innovative experience to best achievement in design. I have had the privilege of personally visiting many of the nominees and have also selected my favorites among the nominees. Official winners will be updated in August.

SUSTAINABLE TOURISM LEADERSHIP

Cavallo Point – the Lodge at Golden Gate, Sausalito, California, U.S.

CuisinArt Golf Resort & Spa, Rendezvous Bay, Anguilla

Emirates One&Only Wolgan Valley, Wolgan Valley, Australia

Inkaterra Machu Picchu Pueblo Hotel, Machu Picchu Pueblo, Peru

UXUA Casa Hotel & Spa, Trancoso, Brazil