SECRET WATERFALLS MAKE VACATIONS MAGICAL

Posted on August 22, 2017 by SwimsuitsDirect

So you're eager to view breathtaking scenery without crowds? Instead of visiting packed sites like Niagara Falls, marvel at tranquil hidden delights around the world. Some are tricky to reach, but that adds to the adventure of uncovering secluded vacation gems. Before enjoying refreshing private dips among nature's beauty, shop Swimsuits Direct for various silhouettes and sizes from popular designers.

Arizona: Grand Canyon's Havasu Falls

This picturesque waterfall cascades 100 feet down mighty red cliffs into the gleaming turquoise pool below. To find the Grand Canyon's remote Havasu Falls 1.5 miles from the Supai Indian reservation, take a 10-mile hike, ride a rented pack mule, or hire a charter helicopter. Then soak in the pristine water's constant 72-degree temperature among gorgeous surroundings.

Feel fabulous wearing elegant to playful La Blanca women's swimsuits. Tops include triangle bikinis, bandeaus, halters, tankinis, underwires, and high necklines. One-piece stunners feature flirty elements like plunging necklines, ruffles, mesh inserts, and strappy accents. Go bold in vibrant shades, color blocking, island florals, geometric designs, or animal prints. Light to dark monochromatic fabrics look classic.

Ecuador: Mashpi Cloud Forest's 19 Falls

At least 19 chutes make Ecuador's misty rainforest a special place to observe. Three hours northwest of Quito, these majestic wonders embellish an already verdant countryside. Discover why the Magnolia waterfall is a natural hot tub. An eco-resort offers daily hikes to some of these magnificent spectacles.

Hawaii: Kauai's Jurassic Falls

Manawaiopuna Falls is the official name for this Hawaiian landmark. But the Jurassic Falls nickname comes from Steven Spielberg's blockbuster dinosaur movie that made it famous. This site was inaccessible, hidden deep in Kauai's interior, until recently. Now Island Helicopters fly visitors to the falls' base. After a brief trek, relish impressive views of its 400-foot plunge.

Indonesia: Bali's Sekumpul Waterfalls

InterContinental Bali Resort's "In the Know" insider's listing features many undiscovered waterfalls surrounding it. The concierge pairs tourists with excursions and guides fitting their interests and physical abilities. Some cascades are visible via breezy nature walks while others require rigorous hikes.

Explore our Seafolly collection for classic to fashion-forward women's bathing suits. One- and two-piece looks sport cold shoulders, halters, high necklines, deep Vs, strappy or lattice detailing, triangles, bralettes, bandeaus, and bustiers. Delicate accents like ruffles, lettuce trim, and fringe add feminine flair. Materials range from dark to vivid solids and color blocking. Prints include stripes, tropicals, florals, and geometrics.

Indonesia: Sumba Island's Secret Falls

Locating these obscure waterfalls involves visiting Sumba Island's highly praised Nihiwatu resort. A 45-minute drive along the south shore through Wanukaka Valley leads to a 90-minute trek to the falls. The water, surrounded by 984-foot-tall bluffs, hurtles into an inviting blue lagoon. Swimmers and brave cliff jumpers enjoy the peaceful setting.

Mongolia: Ovorkhangai, Orkhon Valley's Orkhon Waterfalls

Horseback rides through Mongolia's steppes don't seem ideal for waterfall sightings, especially in winter. But that's when this icy wonderland boasts amazing views of Orkhon Falls' 20 feet of frozen water. Join Nomadic Expeditions' Adventure Mongolia guided outings to catch this and other astounding cold-weather rarities.

Norway: Tysfjorden's Hellemobotn Falls

Most waterfalls gain fame for their towering heights. But in a far north Scandinavian birch woodland, Hellemobotn Falls is distinctive for flowing almost horizontally. Lindblad Expedition guides used to admire this unusual surge from afar. Since last summer, their Norway's Fjords and Arctic Svalbard tour takes guests along steep trails to the miraculous source.

Search Becca ETC plus-size swimsuits and cover-ups for feminine looks in one- and two-piece visions. Try Swimsuits Direct's halters, plunging necklines, tankinis, and bralettes. Embellishments include ruffles, lace appliques, sheer inserts, and lace-up fronts. Choose from fabrics in dark to bright solids and florals, geometrics, and dazzling ripple effects.

Peru: Machu Picchu's Two Waterfalls

The area surrounding mysterious Machu Picchu boasts two obscure waterfalls. In Aguas Calientes, a trail on Inkaterra Machu Picchu Pueblo Hotel's property ends by a nameless surge. Join guided meditative walks at twilight to glimpse pre-Inca petroglyphs. Another long, guided hike to remote Mandor Falls features jaybirds and parrots.

Thailand: Koh Kood's Picnic Waterfall

Luxury resort Soneva Kiri on Koh Kood island offers the ultimate nighttime date: dining near a small waterfall's base. Request that the concierge arrange a romantic destination dinner for two. The tropical cascade's white ripples and misty spray will set a magical mood without drenching your tasty Thai cuisine.
