

11 Epic Vacation Destinations for Adrenaline Junkies

Reader's Digest

Jenn Sinrich
12/31/2017

 SHARE

 SHARE

 TWEET

 SHARE

 EMAIL

TAMBOPATA REGION, PERU

For a once-in-a-lifetime experience in South America's Amazon rainforest, visit the Inkaterra Reserva Amazonica, an eco-luxury lodge in front of the Madre de Dios River. The property offers a varied selection of à-la-carte excursions for adventure enthusiasts, including kayaking on the Madre de Dios, hikes throughout the rainforest during which guests can expect to see exotic animals such as anacondas, tarantulas and jaguars, tour along the Inkaterra Canopy Walkway, a bridge system suspended 98 feet above the ground (not for those afraid of heights), and more! The most adventurous of visitors can even stay in the Inkaterra Canopy Tree House, which is built on a private platform adjoining the famous Inkaterra Canopy Walkway (73 feet above the lush floor below).