INKATERRA: GUESTS' PERSPECTIVES

The Sacred Valley of the Incas is characterised by its incomparable mountain vistas, picturesque villages showcasing traditional markets and a wealth of empirical history of the Incas. Inkaterra Hacienda Urubamba is the perfect base for exploration of this beautiful corner of Peru. From the property's Earth to Table concept that encourages guests to harvest their own sustainably sourced crops to learning about the importance of astrology in the Andes on the Twilight Mountain excursion, everyone on site is enveloped in the rich and diverse culture that is characteristic of the region. Your experience is part of our own at Inkaterra and we are delighted to have received so many lovely comments already this year. Here are a selection from Inkaterra Hacienda Urubamba.

I live in Hawaii - a Paradise on mother earth. I have visited Peru, yet another Paradise on our mother earth. All of the staff are exceptional in their demeanor and attention, thank you all for a trip of a lifetime.
