INKATERRA: GUESTS' PERSPECTIVES – EL MAPI BY INKATERRA

Nestled amid the historic sanctuary of Machu Picchu, El Mapi by Inkaterra is a cosy yet contemporary lodge that goes to the beat of its own drum. Offering a down-to-earth and understated break, explorers can indulge in the spirited and welcoming atmosphere of the nearby town which showcases colourful local markets, food and music. Whilst at El Mapi, one can the enjoy homely comforts of the quaint, fresh rooms, communal bar, dining room, cafe and buffet-style breakfasts, all set among lofty ceilings and panoramic windows.

Located a stone's throw from Machu Picchu, guests can venture from Machu Picchu Pueblo (commonly named Aguas Calientes) all the way up to the famed Inca Ruins and be enveloped by the pure beauty of the surrounding Andean Mountains. El Mapi offers a wholesome and relaxing ambience after exploring one of Peru's most prized locations, the Machu Picchu archaeological site. Read about El Mapi from our guests' perspective below.
