

When here we recommend to stay and dine in the best boutique hotel Inkaterra La Casona. Its 16th Century manor house stands on the training grounds for an elite army of Incas, and had Spanish Conquistador Diego de Almagro and 'Libertador' Simón Bolívar among its illustrious guests. After being harmoniously restored by Inkaterra throughout five years, emphasizing its original architecture, Inkaterra La Casona reflects the encounter of cultures and traditions across centuries. If you are not a guest of the hotel you can dine here only under a special request but it totally worth it!
